Industries

For 70+ years we have acted for clients who are particularly demanding of skill and efficiency: C-suite executives, general counsel and other members of the legal team, for a virtual who's who of insurance companies in Canada, and select local, U.S. and international companies. We know their businesses inside and out, and we love the challenges that they continue to bring to us to solve for them. To meet their needs we have developed methods, systems and procedures forged in this demanding world, that allow us to truly say: Efficiency is in our DNA.
