

Blaney McMurtry Announces Two New Partners

Date: March 01, 2016

Blaney McMurtry LLP is proud to announce that two associates have become partners of the firm.

Roman Pekaruk is a member of the Real Estate Group. His general real estate practice involves acting in a broad range of commercial acquisitions, construction projects, subdivision and condominium developments, financing, conveyancing and leasing matters. His diverse clientele includes property developers, lenders, and large financial institutions as well as private individuals. Roman's experience working in various construction and industrial settings prior to practicing law has given him a leading edge in understanding the industry, his clients' business goals and their concerns.

Rafal Szymanski is a member of the Insurance Litigation Group. His broad litigation practice focuses on professional negligence and insurance litigation. While he specializes in defending claims against police, Rafal has also represented financial advisors, appraisers, mortgage brokers, insurance agents and brokers, and engineers. He also defends various personal injury matters, including occupiers' liability, motor vehicle accident, and product liability claims.

Congratulations to our new partners!
